

Exciting NEWS!

Narragansett Food Sovereignty Initiative and the Intertribal Agriculture Council work together to bring two summits to the Northeast coast!

- Youth Summit - June 25 – 29, 2018
- Intertribal Food Sovereignty Summit - August 20 - 24, 2018

IAC Eastern Native Youth in Food & Agriculture Summit

June 25 – 29, 2018 - 2018

This opportunity is organized by Intertribal Agriculture Council and hosted by the Narragansett Food Sovereignty Initiative.

This year's event will be June 25-29, 2018, held in Westerly, Rhode Island in the Narragansett homelands.

Early Deadline April 15, 2018

Continuing for a second year, this event will bring 25 Native youth in high school and college age to Westerly, Rhode Island for three days of food systems exploration on the farm, in the forest, and at the ocean shore.

All accepted applicants will receive free registration, meals, and lodging.

Transportation scholarships are available in limited numbers.

Apply early to secure your spot!

Intertribal Food Sovereignty Summit

August 20 - 24, 2018

The event is being organized in New England for the first time providing an opportunity for our local tribes to highlight their community ventures collectively.

This is an exciting way for the network of growers, harvesters and producers in our region to connect.

REGISTRATION IS NOW OPEN!

Early bird registration for Native food producers and community members ends 6/15/2018 and the room block cut off is 8/3/2018.

Lodging info for Foxwoods Resort Casino will be available once you have registered.

Please get in touch with event organizers – intertribalfoods \(at\) gmail \(dot\) com – for information on:

- Sponsoring: We have booth space available for you! USDA agencies, non-profits, and other related organizations are welcome.
- Youth aged 25 and under may attend for free after filling out short application. Contact intertribalfoods@gmail.com for more info.
- Vendors: we have space available on a first-come, first-served basis
- Chefs and food donations are very welcome. We'd like to feature food from the four directions in our meals.
