Greetings Narragansett Tribal Youth,

As Chief Sachem, it is my responsibility to look after the better interests of our Tribe. It is a monumental task, and one I take to heart. I realize that in order for our tribe to continue to grow in a positive direction, it requires community effort.

I applaud each and every one of you who are making strides within our tribal community; going to school, continuing on to colleges and universities, taking the time to learn of our culture and traditions. We as Narragansett people constantly have to remember the delicate balance we walk...one foot in our cultural and traditional ways, the other in the modern world in which we live.

Our Tribal community has long faced persistent disparities in educational, socioeconomic, and health outcomes. Overcoming these challenges will require all of us to work together and share our best ideas. Your generation can be the one to break through barriers we've not yet broken, and build better futures for our community and for our people.

As such, I invite all Narragansett Tribal Youth between the ages of 16-24 to come sit with me and discuss your concerns as they pertain to our people. Let's sit and talk about what you would like to see brought to the Tribe...what areas we, as a community can fortify. Let's work together to strengthen our Tribal Community!

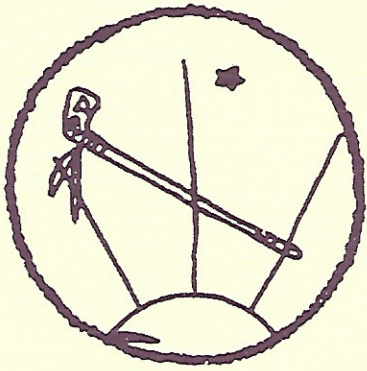

It is my intent to host these sessions with tribal youth several times throughout the year. This is the first of many, and I encourage you to attend.

Thank you for your time, I look forward to working with you.

Very Truly Yours
